Patient-rapporteret helbred hos patienter med hjertesvigt

Hjertesvigt er en alvorlig tilstand med høj risiko for genindlæggelse og for tidlig død. Patient-rapporteret helbred er information om patientens fysiske og mentale helbred, symptomer og sygdomsopfattelse, rapporteret af patienten selv. Et nyt ph.d.-projekt fra Aarhus Universitet, Health har undersøgt den prognostiske betydning af patient-rapporteret helbred på medicin adhærens samt risiko for dødelighed, kardiovaskulære hændelser og genindlæggelse i en kohorte af danske patienter med hjertesvigt. Projektet er gennemført af Anne Ankerstjerne Rasmussen, der forsvare det d. 27/2 2020

Forsvaret af ph.d.-projektet er offentligt og finder sted den 27/2 kl. 14.00-16.00 i Auditorium G206-145, Aarhus Universitetshospital, Palle Juul-Jensens Boulevard 99, 8200 Aarhus N. ### Patient-reported outcomes in patients with heart failure

Heart failure is a serious condition with a high risk of readmission and mortality. Patient-reported outcomes measure the patients mental and physical health, burden of symptoms and illness perception, reported by the patient. This study aimed to assess the association between patient-reported outcomes and medication adherence, mortality and readmission in a cohort of Danish patients with heart failure. The project was carried out by Anne Ankerstjerne Rasmussen, who is defending her dissertation on 27/2 2020.

The defence is public and takes place on 27/2 2020 at 14:00 in Aarhus University Hospital, Palle Juul-Jensens Boulevard 99, 8200 Aarhus N. The title of the project is "Patient-reported outcomes in patients with heart failure".
